

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

EXPLORE. CONNECT. TRANSFORM.

5 Ways to Fulfill your Experiential Learning Requirement

Internships

Participate in pre-professional development experiences that integrate critical self-reflection and career related responsibilities into an undergraduate educational program through immersion in an approved internship.

Programs offered every semester.

CONTACT US:

Office for Experiential Learning
Room 221, Berkey Hall
(517) 432-4541
sscstudy@msu.edu

Research

Work with MSU faculty member(s) on research projects that suit your individual studies and interests. Students are encouraged to speak with academic advisors and professors to learn more about research options, as projects differ by major, area of study and faculty leadership. Courses offered every semester.

Study Away

Learn about different cultures, discover potential opportunities, and explore unique environments - all without a passport! Located within and beyond the continental United States, study away programs allow students to apply classroom knowledge in unique settings. Areas of program foci include internships, community and civic engagement, and service-learning. Offered spring and summer. Locations vary.

Service Learning

Engage in community-based projects while simultaneously being challenged in the classroom to prepare yourself to be agents of social change during your academic tenure here at MSU and beyond. Programs offered every semester.

Study Abroad

US News Top 10 college and universities for study abroad programs. 300+ programs in over 60 countries. 90+ programs in the College of Social Science.